Bail Rejected in Sexual Assault case

In a significant legal victory, the Legal Aid Society (LAS) successfully opposed the pre-arrest bail of an alleged accused for sexually assaulting his sister-in-law at her residence, taking advantage of the absence of her family members.

The accused, charged for offenses under Sections 354/377-B of the Pakistan Penal Code (PPC), initially managed to secure an interim pre-arrest bail on 01.04.2024 from the High Court of Sindh.

However, through diligent legal representation by the LAS Litigation team, the accused's pre-arrest bail was resultantly recalled by the same Court on 30.07.2024, as the Court found no evidence of malice on part of the prosecution for perpetrating irreparable injury to the reputation and liberty of the accused through his arrest.
